Cloth manufacturer Hainsworth, well known for its quality pool range, has been offered a high-profile platform from which to promote its premier Match product.

The cloth will be used to cover tables during the new Betfred Premier league snooker, which starts on September 15 at the Plymouth Pavillions. Matchroom, the tournament organisers, say they have selected Hainsworth Match cloth for the professional players as it gives them "the control that they need".

Hainsworth commented on the arrangement, stating: "The players have responded so well to the cloth that this is now the second season that Matchroom have been using Hainsworth Match and they are delighted to continue the relationship."
